 - 2. Each group's registration forms are placed face down and shuffled starting with pitchers, then group "A", group "B", group "C", group "D", and "New" players.

3. Team drafting order is determined by lot.
4. Any Head coach is allowed one family member or girlfriend to be removed from her ability group and placed on their team, unless she specifically requests not to play with him. Any Head Coach receiving a family member or girlfriend, as a player will relinquish their first draft pick in the family member or girlfriend's ability group.
5. Each coach selects a player, from the pitcher's group until the group is emptied. Each coach will relinquish their first draft pick in the selected pitcher's ability group.
6. Each coach continues to draft in the same order through group A, group "B", group "C", group "D", "New" players, etc., until all groups are emptied.

9. The only instances a coach may be allowed more than two trades will be for Mother/Daughter, legally wed spouses and sisters. These requests must be mutually asked for by both Mother and the Daughter, spouses or sisters. Example of honoring Mother and Daughter requests during draft: When the highest rated of the two is drawn by blind draft the lowest ranked of the two is automatically placed on that team so the team loses a draft pick of that ranking but a forced trade is not lost to that team. Only in this case will this be a double draft pick and will only force the team to skip their first pick from the lower of the two categories. This will allow all teams the opportunity to use their two trades for other requests.

If a team cannot field the required number of players, they will forfeit. Rained out games during the week will be made up on that week's available night, or the game will be forfeited. Any available, playable field shall be used as necessary for rainouts.
